

On October 10, 2019 13 students at Spring Creek Elementary School had artwork featured in the Premier Exhibition at the University of Wyoming Art Museum. The show features artwork from all elementary schools in Albany County School District #1. Students every year are chosen to have their artwork displayed at the museum to celebrate the work they have done from the past school year. Not only are students chosen based on their artistic skills, but also for their hard work and determination in the art classroom. The Premier Exhibition had a record turn out and hundreds of parents, teachers, students, family, and community members came out and supported the arts in elementary schools. The students from Spring Creek, whose art was in the show, were recognized for their hard work in the art classroom and given golden paintbrushes for their achievements.
